

Hello,

My name is [REDACTED] and I am a faculty member and researcher at Northwestern University's Center for Behavioral Intervention Technologies (CBITs).

We recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic brought a number of changes to your campus, including a switch to remote-delivered mental health services. We are conducting a questionnaire-based research study titled “Examining the switch to remote-delivered mental health services among college counseling center clinicians” to examine how the switch to remote-delivered mental health services has affected college center clinicians. The purpose of this study is to understand how to continue to offer mental health services during the pandemic and beyond. This study has been reviewed by the Northwestern University IRB (STU [REDACTED])

We are recruiting college counseling center clinicians (age 18 years and older) to participate in this research study. Participation includes filling out an online survey that takes approximately 30 minutes to complete. All participants are entered into a raffle to win one of ten $50 Amazon gift cards.
